The Journal for Nonprofit Innovation

- Submission Fee: No fee is required at this time.
- Nonprofits must be WikiCharities validated prior to submission – visit WikiCharities.org/get-validated
- Articles should be 2-4 pages in length, maximum 2,500 words.
- We are interested in nonprofit leaders who work on-the-ground and/or topic experts who can share their expertise and experiences with our readers.
- We want thought papers that can discuss ways to improve how we approach community and global issues.

Suggested Thought Paper Format

The outline is a suggestion on how you can structure your thought paper. Submit through the ScholarsArchive portal – https://scholarsarchive.byu.edu/joni/

Outline

Author Name:

Title of Thought Paper:

Topic Areas: (list areas you are addressing)

A. Introductory paragraph

1. Write a lead sentence that gains the reader's attention.

2. Introduce your thesis or most important argument.

3. Introduce sub-arguments or sub-themes that you are going to use to support your thesis.

B. Body of the paper

1. Discuss the sub-themes that you identified in the introductory paragraph, in separate paragraphs.

2. Write down references you will use to support these sub-themes, if possible.

C. Conclusion

1. Restate your thesis and sub-themes.

2. Write any closing comments or implications of your argument.