Mrs. Nelsen ran a wonderful parent discussion about what areas parents would like to see a difference, as well as what parents are willing to do to help make GreenWood the best possible experience for their children.

The new document will be organized under our school norms of “Safe, Engaged, Respectful, and Responsible”. As a group, we discussed what parents would be held accountable for under these categories. We also discussed feedback on what parents would like to see teachers/staff be held responsible for under these categories.

Mrs. Nelsen is taking parent’s feedback and incorporating it into a brand new, updated Grow Greenments document. She is also meeting with focus groups from the staff and then with students to find out how and what they are willing to do to be “safe, engaged, respectful and responsible. When completed, this document will be reviewed one more time by parents, as well as with our Board, before it is finalized. The final draft will be put into place at the beginning of next school year.

2. Today is the last day of “Teacher Appreciation Week”. Take a few minutes to write a thank you email to your student’s teacher!
