CONGRATULATIONS CLASS OF 2022!

We celebrate you with the first ever UMA Today Senior Edition

The UMA Senior Edition and the Senior Luncheon

On Friday, May 6th, the Class of 2022 had the opportunity to get together and pick up their graduation materials and enjoy each other's company one last time as a group. Major Workman and the guidance counselors, Ms. Daw and Miss Pemberton, handed out graduation caps and gowns. Mrs. Seward arranged for sandwiches and drinks to be served. The Class of 2022 was asked to fill out the profile form that they were sent as a basis for this edition of UMA Today. Special thanks to Mrs. Horning as well.

Class of 2022 Memories: Captain Curtis

Specific Memories:

- Sending Zakary Kazmar surprise tater-tots when he was home but logged in online and our class got to hear when they arrived at his door.
- Kordell Cook trying to run and jump over the net in the gym... and failing epically.
- "Schosten Billeman" running for SBO President .... and winning.
- Josh Hogan promoting Marine stereotypes as he ate crayons.
- Gavin Brandon claiming that WAP stood for "We Are Poggers"
- Kaplan and Falaschi debating in Government just to debate, even though they disagreed with the position they were defending.
- Erick Herrera dancing... and dancing... and dancing... and providing more music video footage than any Cadet ever.
- Hyrum Koyle coming to Drama Club as a 7th Grader, and earning the nickname "Gerald" for a silly voice he did - and then we used that for YEARS!
- Jaxon Poe ROASTING another Cadet (who's name I won't say) and then trying to defend himself by saying, "In my defense, I didn't think he was smart enough to get that joke."
- Asking Ty Olsen if he hit puberty in Elementary School, because he always sounded like a low bass.
- CONSTANTLY calling the Mikayla's (Falkner or Erickson) the wrong last name, or sending things to the wrong one, even though I KNOW THEM APART!

In General:

- This class, I feel, truly had the most tumultuous and "affected by COVID" class, as they lost a huge chunk of their Sophomore year, their Junior year they had to be in masks, and strange schedules, and this year we're just getting back to "normalcy" but they're Seniors, which is already a crazy year, and yet they have rolled with the punches and adjusted to very different methods of teaching and learning. They have had some amazing sports teams, ranger teams, and drill, but also adapted to ever-changing teachers, coaches, and methods of "practice." Some of these Cadets I've taught since 7th grade, and I am consistently surprised, impressed, and made hopeful by their intelligence, kindness, wit, dedication, talent, and drive.

Nathaniel Terry

How long at UMA? This will be my second and last year.

Do you have a job? If so, where? I work at Chick-fil-A, It would be a good starting job for anyone who is entering high school.

Best Advice? Just try everything you never know what you'll like

Class of 2022 Memories: Mrs. Green

This is my 6th year here working in the kitchen and I just wanted to share a memory of my very first day. There was this little blonde 7th grader barely able to see over the counter with the most excited smile and the most polite manners for a little guy. It was this day that I decided that I wanted to become a member of the UMA family I have now watched that little boy grow into an amazing polite young man. Thank you Alex Jones for just being you. Stay true to yourself. You will go far in life. Ps he is now able to see over the counter and is a little taller.

Journee Seward

Favorite Food? Pasta

Favorite Music? Soft pop or 80s rock

Favorite Car? A Mini Cooper Clubman

Biggest Pet Peeve? When people have the sniffles and don't blow their nose.

Best Advice? I, Journee Seward leave my sense of humor to my sisters. My best advice would be, make the most out of high-school it flies by and to always treat people with kindness you never know what someone else is going through.

Class of 2022 Memories: Mrs. Barlow

Specific Memories:

- Ty Olsen demonstrating his love of the outdoors by eating Box Elder bugs.
- CE English: Hyenas, ducks, and shanties.
- Demitri Harris's jokes that all relate to his feelings about his mom.
- When Bosten Schilleman would sneak into class to change the calendar before Mikayla Erickson could.
- Hyrum Koyle trying to write his college research paper on milking rats. In his words: "Rodents, as mammals, are capable of producing lactation. This means that the viability of that milk, for human consumption, must be thoroughly examined."
- Christopher Rosas writing with the Spiderman Effect.
- Listening to Alex Jones' "Jonesisms."
- TealC Danes and Taylor Housley trying to read in different accents.
- Erick Herrera's weird obsession with Takis and pears.
- Isaac Jensen asking me to drink a soda every class period.
- One of my favorite lessons: terrifying the senior English classes, with the help of Mr. Stumph, before reading 1984.
- When I told Connor Miller that riding bulls was a bad idea, he didn't listen, and then he got trampled. Lesson learned: listen to your parents and your teachers. Glad you are okay though.
- When Alex Jones misread some Shakespeare lines and the class couldn't stop laughing. J
- Watching some of their faces in 10th grade when they realized what was actually happening in Oedipus Rex.
- Red Vines or Twizzlers?
- Michael Reed looking 100% at prom.
- AP Lang rocking out to the weight room music every class period.
- Sameer Haq carrying my backpack every day when I was a floating teacher.

In General:

- This class, I feel, truly had the most tumultuous and "affected by COVID" class, as they lost a huge chunk of their Sophomore year, their Junior year they had to be in masks, and strange schedules, and this year we're just getting back to "normalcy" but they're Seniors, which is already a crazy year, and yet they have rolled with the punches and adjusted to very different methods of teaching and learning. How long at UMA? Six years
Favorite staff member? I feel like this is a trick question. Mr Dockter, Mrs Storm, Mrs McNeely, Mrs Carter, Mrs McCutchan, Captain Curtis. Can I just say all of them? I'm going to forget one of them and never live with the guilt. Just be like; Pretty much every single teacher of mine has been an amazing influence on my life and I'm so grateful to all of them to take time out of their lives to teach me in a meaningful way. Some cheesy thing like that
Plans for After High School? Graduate High School, go to Weber for four years getting a bachelors of science in Environmental science then going to law school at the U for three years in Environment law and then eventually drown in student loans for the rest of my life
Favorite UMA Memory?

What are you going to miss? The people. This school is such a tight knit community and it's been a great time for me watching people grow, and learn about themselves. I've made so many friends at this school, and I've learned so much more then I would have at a regular school. The people really make this crappy rectangle worth it
Most Inspirational Person and Why? Skip
Favorite Color? Blue! More specifically the blue shades of the ocean because yes, aesthetic
Favorite Food? Asking me what my favorite food is a terrible question. I like most foods. Just thinking of my favorite food is making me hungry. I think my favorite type of food is soup or pasta
Favorite Music? mean I like pretty much every genre of music, I like pop, alternative, country, rock, folk, indie, musical, jazz, sea shanties, decades etc. Like I legit just really like music and I'm not picky about where it comes from. My favorite band is AJR so like there's something
Favorite Car? My car! 2004 Blue Honda Accord with several stickers that really only make me laugh. I'm bored so let me tell you all about them. The biggest one is a picture of Ted Cruz with the caption This man ate my son. I didn't even mean to make this political, I just thought it was hilarious. My first one was an American flag with the Pride flag instead of white. It looks pretty cool, it's one of those 3d stickers.

I have one that is an AJR sticker which is my favorite band which was a gift for I think my birthday last year I have another sticker that was a gift which is the little astronaut in the top left corner
My favorite one just out of humor is a picture of a cat with a cowboy hat that says Meowdy.
One that I just got was one that says clap clap in honor of me announcing formation
Biggest Pet Peeve? Seventh graders. jkjk probably; People touching my stuff (especially if they don't ask first), the yearbook not being finished, people stopping in the middle of the hallways and getting mad when I push past them as if they didn't deserve it, college, Not having enough alone time
Best Advice? My best advice is to look on the bright side and celebrate the little moments. It's easier to be optimistic then pessimistic and it also helps a lot with things. If you are having a hard time doing your assignments, do the ones that look the most fun and then celebrate that you did them even if they seemed easy or simple. Life is more fun and well, livable if you learn to accept your mistakes and look past them.

My last will and testament is really, idc what happens to most of my stuff. There's a list on my middle bookshelf detailing where all the important stuff should go. However, I want to be cremated and my ashes need to serve several purposes, so they have to separate them into groups. Firstly, I want to be a tree, take my ashes and grow a tree, pine tree if possible. I also want to be turned into a coral reef, because Apparently that is something you can do. Finally, I want my ashes to be turned into a sword. My predecessors will find the sword and I will lead them on this great quest to reunite my ashes together so I can finally rest in peace. You might wonder how? Well they need to use my ash sword to cut down my ash tree and then take my ash tree and turn it into another coral reef right next to my original. Then they can leave the sword, sword in the stone style in the tree where only those from my bloodline can wield it. It'll be fun :D

Also... make the best out of every thing and enjoy everything you can, even if it seems hard sometimes because you will only have the memories left. You choose how good or bad they can be.

Class of 2022 Memories: Mrs. McNeely

I have taught most of you during your years at UMA. You have all always helped me to learn and grow. You have challenged me, made me crazy at times, but also helped me through dark days and hard days and days when all I wanted to do was cry. You have spent YEARS learning how to write a proper essay and reading countless books for classes. You have hopefully learned some life lessons and some practical skills along the way. I have always tried to make you feel safe and loved and special because you all are very unique and special. I feel very blessed and fortunate to have you as my family. Thank you for allowing me to be your teacher, mentor, surrogate mom, person you can talk to, loved one, family, and friend. I wish you all the best of luck out there in the world. Go and be extraordinary! Make good choices! Love, love, love you ~ Madam McNeely :-)

For the seniors on the Debate Team:

We have a record eight seniors graduating this year. On a personal note, I have watched most of them grow from tiny freshmen, and in one case, an eighth grader, to the extraordinary young men and women I see here today. I watched them go from the Littles to the Legacies. I couldn't be more proud to claim them as my own. Our dynamic will change somewhat next year.

- Noelle Falaschi is strong and outspoken, a wonderful leader, and a beautiful young lady.

- I have watched Meggie Kipnis blossom from a person who was afraid to give a speech to a mature, eloquent, and poised young woman that I barely recognize.

- I have loved seeing Radeyah Kaplan strive for greatness and achieve that goal every time.

- Jaxon Poe has been my ray of sunshine. Seeing him smile has always made me smile too. I admire his ability to move past adversity and find the positives in each negative.

- I think Dallas Olson has transcended the most. They have gone from someone who doesn't know who they are to a strong and independent person.

- Katie Arguello is bubbly and fun. She is an excellent example of "if you put your mind to it, you can accomplish anything."

- I have enjoyed getting to know Edlena Mitchell this year. She is goal-oriented and creative. I know she will go on to achieve wonderful things in her life.

- Emily Ward, my mini-me. While she will be graduating from Weber High this year, she was with me from her 8th to 11th grade year and I still claim her as a member of the UMA Great Debate Team. It has been a pleasure and privilege to be her mentor.
